swish!

The wind took the Queen's favourite hat right off her head.

It soared high above the Queen.
It wooshed high above the Queen's men.

The wind was so strong that it swept the Queen's hat all the way to...

Trafalgar Square...

London Zoo...

the London Underground...

Big Ben...

where it sailed up further into the sky...

until, at last, the Queen and all the Queen's men...

to Kensington Palace...

along with the Queen's...
